The Pathways of History

Small museums continually search for innovative ideas to promote history and to entice the public to visit their museums and historic places. In 2010 five enthusiastic Morris County groups conceived an idea designed to highlight their distinctive museums and historical properties of local significance; each one had a unique and fascinating story to share.

Now in its sixth year, The Pathways of History – Links to Each Other and to the Past has grown to include 21 organizations representing 23 historic sites. There is something for everyone to experience and enjoy on this family-friendly tour. Admission is free at all locations. Begin at any point on the tour; whatever Pathways you choose will lead you to a warm welcome and an enlightening historical journey.
